Synergy Launches Business Community Network Software At CWS Summit

Denver, CO, September 24, 2007 – Synergy Services Corporation, a leading provider of contingent workforce solutions, will formally introduce its new technology platform for clients to develop business communities online at the CWS Summit in Dallas Texas, on October 23-24. The Zone is a private and secure web based community portal developed by Synergy Services where companies can source, communicate and collaborate with former workers online including retired workers, alumni and previous contractors. Companies now have a means online to fill contract and full-time positions more quickly and cost effectively with qualified workers.

“Retired workers and other alumni communities provide an excellent pool of talent for project work and full-time employment”, stated Scott Zirbel, President of Synergy Services Corporation. “We are excited to give companies an innovative means to fill critical positions more quickly and cost effectively by developing a business community network.”

Synergy has a number of customers using the platform, and is currently working with a large Fortune 500 company to develop their alumni network online. The initial launch will provide a secure web based solution that allows alumni to enter a private online community where they can view company information, participate in events, apply for targeted positions, communicate with other alumni and refer other alumni in to the network.

A limited release of the platform will begin immediately following the CWS Summit on October 30, 2007. General availability will begin in January 2007.
